Sales are ongoing, with new items being added often. Call or email regarding availability. In-person shopping welcome by appointment.

Dendrobium “nobile” type

$35 in terracotta. Clusters of white flowers.

Dendrochillum magnum

$35 in terracotta. Long spikes of small yellow flowers, although they don't flower often for me.

Pleurothallid family Orchid divisions in terracotta

$25 to $35.

Aechmea caudata:

Bare root ($25 to $40). Happiest planted in the ground; thrive in pots, but will be needing division each spring/summer. Many offsets! Prolific “candy corn” inflorescences on long spikes. Strong indirect light is best.

Vriesea fenestralis x Vriesea gigantea ‘Nova’ (? parentage uncertain):

$50. Bromeliad; rare. Hardy to about 35 degrees; lower than that, cover with frostcloth and move closer to the house. No direct sun, dappled shade is best. I don't recommend planting in the ground unless you live in Oakland/Berkeley, etc. Prolific offsets. Does not flower for me. Wonderful foliage plant.

Furcraea longaeva

Succulent. 4” seedlings $4.00. Grows into massive plant with Agave-type habit. Moncarpic.

Bilbergia nutans “Queen's Tears”:

Bromeliad. .25 each tank, or free with purchase.

Echinopsis chamaecereus (“Peanut Cactus”)

4” offsets $4.00.

Aloe arborescens variegata / Candelabra aloe:

5 gallons in plastic: $25 to $40.

Sauromatum venosum (common name: Voodoo Lily):

$15 to $35 in various pots. Each pot includes at least 3 corms; most, more. These are dormant until June 2024. Keep sheltered and dry-ish until then.

Opuntia monocantha (variegated):

$10 in terracotta. $7 in plastic.

Succulent offsets various sizes and prices; inquire.
